In the area of corporate governance, Porsche places importance on transparency, integrity and clear management. Only with strong, comprehensible governance can an environment exist in which innovation and responsibility go hand in hand.

Porsche approaches corporate responsibility along the entire value chain, from its direct suppliers to the management level. Clear processes, ethical standards and systematic risk analyses are just as important as the protection of human rights in the company's supply chain. Through transparent ESG disclosures and metrics, Porsche aims to strengthen stakeholder trust and thus lay the foundation for value-creating growth.
